Love this devotional for preschoolers. We have the other version of this and used it till it was falling apart with our oldest. Bought this one hoping it would be as good as the first and it definitely is! They are the perfect length for young ones. There is nothing better than having your kids ask to do their devotions each day! Great way to start imparting a love of The Word into your kids!

This book is good for my girls, 5 & 7. I get the 7 year old to read it to the 5 year old because though it says preschooler, the reading is probably a second or third grade reading level. It has been going good. We read it in the morning before school. It helps reset our morning, especially when things aren't going smoothly!!

Highly recommend! My daughter uses the first version in school so this was the perfect supplement. Easy to understand for preschoolers and to the point.

I love this book very nice devotionals and teaches children about God in a way they can understand. Sometimes I'm not thrilled on some subjects they talk about like not wanting to go to bed or being scared. I just reward them little example but each page has a bible verse and kiddie examplelets by each day and month and has cute drawings my four year old and five year old girl love it. and I enjoy reading it to them as well each night.

Excellent little look for children's devotional.

The entrance of God's Word brings/gives Light. I started Daily Devotions with my 4 yrs old last year and now she and her brother 22 months just love to sit and listen and learn. I know, trust and believe in God's Word and the Power of the Holy Spirit to sustain my young folks as we journey in knowing and loving God. Thanks for this Devotions.

My 2 and 4 year olds love this! We read it nightly before bed. It is quick and simple for young children.

The messages are short and to the point, often discussing subjects I hadn't thought to bring up or unable to find the words. Love the pictures too! My girls both enjoy these devotionals as well and can often relate or will answer out loud to the questions.
