Founded in 1915 as the Cartographic Group, the first division of National Geographic, National Geographic Maps has been responsible for illustrating the world around us through the art and science of mapmaking. Today, National Geographic Maps continues this mission by creating the world's best wall maps, recreation maps, atlases, and globes which inspire people to care about and explore their world.

I own one of the National Geographic Maps for every National Park I visit (some visited many times). I have at least 20. Waterproof, tough, very good detail, topographic, etc. If your backpacking or canoe touring like I do OR just driving the roads and looking at the Geyser Basins in Yellowstone =s a must have item in your car map bin. 10 star.

Good map with fairly accurate trail distances. However, the distances for trails that are shown in provincial Parks were not given that was somewhat frustrating because we were hiking through those parks on a multi day trip.

Met all expectations & Will be using more maps from different locations in the future. Especially interested in trails that allow horses or are exclusively for horses!

This was very helpful on my road trip I took!

This map was great -no tearing and you can also write on it. Placed comments on it where we saw the bears, sheep, Mt goats ! Great for hiking since it does not get wet!

The best maps ever!

Great map. Also weather and rip resistant.

Nice quality.
